He regularly plays at celebrity parties, London events, and has played at some of the biggest and best clubs in London. Resident at Chinawhite, Aura, Paper and MINT (London's most exclusive shareholder venue).

Last month alone he DJed at The Armani Club in Milan for Giorgio Armani himself, then for 50 Cent's MOBO After Party at Chinawhite and also for Ice Cube's promo tour in July 2006. A resident at Kabaret Prophecies where he plays for celebrities such as Lindsay Lohan, Axel Rose, Callum Best, Michelle Marsh, Pamela Anderson, the list goes on.

Dec 2007 sees DJ Spenny's first official chart release "Push Your Back Up" signed to 2Shade Records. A dirty electro beat fused with a sexy garage vocal from The Urban Legends. Watch out for this.

Not only does DJ Spenny play urban based music, he throws in club classics and party tracks such as Michael Jackson, Prince, Eurythmics, etc, that really get the crowd growing. With a huge collection of music dating back to 70's and 80's disco you're sure to get a real party regardless of the crowd and venue.

In 1999, a resident slot at the Matrix in Reading, then in the top ten super clubs in the country, playing R&B and Hip-Hop threw DJ Spenny into the mainstream. In 2003 he setup a Bootleg, Mashup and Remix website <http://forum.djspenny.co.uk> which now has over 13,000 members, posting the latest remixes and bootlegs from around the world.

Spenny has released numerous mashups on white label, including a DJ 'must have', The Weekend vs. Overnight Celebrity. His work has featured on many mix CD's including the popular Vibin' series available from www.vibin.co.uk. Spenny's remixes are still available from HMV's all over the country. Spenny has begun to forge his own style of 'HipHopHouse', a fusion of urban based music and house beats. Resident slots at Chinawhites, Kabaret, Aura, Umbaba & Paper have once again raised his profile to one of London's most prolific DJ's.
